20. Accompanied recitative (First Fairy): Well were the solemn rites begun

FIRST FAIRY

Well were the solemn rites begun;
And tho’ but lighted by the moon,
They showed as rich as if the sun
Had made the night his noon.
Wonder none they were so bright;
The moon then borrowed from a greater light.
Then, princely Oberon,
Go on,
Such is not every night.
The lower court of Windsor Castle,
with a view of the Round Tower, the outside of St George’s Chapel, &c.
The lower court of Windsor Castle, with a view of the Round Tower, the outside of St George's Chapel, &c.
Horn in F

19. A troop of fairies

The lower court of Windsor Castle, &c.

The view of the Round Tower, the east side of St George's Chapel, &c.
19. A troop of fairies

The lower court of Windsor Castle,
with a view of the Round Tower, the outside of St George's Chapel, &c.
With moderate spirit

Well were the solemn rites begun;
And tho' but lighted by the moon,
They showed as rich as if the sun
Had made the night his noon.

Wonder none they were so bright;
The moon then borrowed from a greater light.

Then, princely Oberon,
Go on,
Such is not every night.

Accompanied recitative (First Fairy): Well were the solemn rites begun

The lower court of Windsor Castle,
The view of the Round Tower, the Dome of St George's Chapel, &c.
19. A troop of fairies

Well were the solemn rites begun;
And tho' but lighted by the moon,
They showed as rich as if the sun
Had made the night his noon.

Wonder none they were so bright;
The moon then borrowed from a greater light.

Then, princely Oberon,
Go on,
Such is not every night.

Accompanied recitative (First Fairy): Well were the solemn rites begun...
Accompanied recitative (First Fairy): Well were the solemn rites begun;
And tho' but lighted by the moon,
They showed as rich as if the sun
Had made the night his noon.

Wonder none they were so bright;
The moon then borrowed from a greater light.

Then, princely Oberon,
Go on,
Such is not every night.